

A bear is a large heavy and powerful animal, with thick, shaggy fur and very a short tail. Bears are omnivorous. They eat plants, honey, insects, fish and small animals. There are several kinds of bears such as a brown bear, black bear and a grizzly bear.

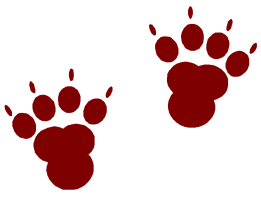

A bear is a large heavy and powerful animal, with thick, shaggy fur and very a short tail. Bears are omnivorous. They eat plants, honey, insects, fish and small animals. There are several kinds of bears such as a brown bear, black bear and a grizzly bear.

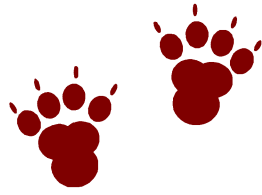

A bear is a large heavy and powerful animal, with thick, shaggy fur and very a short tail. Bears are omnivorous. They eat plants, honey, insects, fish and small animals. There are several kinds of bears such as a brown bear, black bear and a grizzly bear.

The Bear Facts

Describe a bear: _____

What does omnivorous mean? _____

List the different bears: _____

